

SHOP WINDOW

The autumn budget may put a dint in discretionary spending. But if you have spare cash, here are some things that caught Dan Joyce's eye lately

Save money

As a member, you can save up to 50% on a wide range of cycling products and services.

Visit cyclinguk.org/member-benefits

1 Redshift ShockStop Suspension Stem

£189.99

Redshift's 20mm-travel suspension stem is now also available in 55mm and 70mm lengths. Both have a 6° rise and fit 1 1/8in steerers and 31.8mm bars.

redshiftsports.com

2 Blue Lug Koma Light

£38

Instead of silicone straps, this 20-lumen, USB-rechargeable light (front or rear) bolts neatly to your bike's frame/fork bosses, a rear rack, saddle rails or even a brake calliper.

tokyobike.co.uk

3 Hope Evo 155mm crankset

£270+

Hope began offering a short version of its MTB crankset last year. Why? Ground clearance, lightness and better balance when standing. They take 104BCD single, 64/104BCD double or spiderless chainrings.

hopetech.com

4 Genesis Tour de Fer 40

£2,199

Genesis's tourers now have 46-30 doubles instead of 50-39-30 triples. They're all nice bikes but some, like the Tour de Fer 40 (bottom ratio 30/34), remain over-g geared.

genesisbikes.co.uk

5 Muc-Off Big Bore Tubeless Valves

£40/pair

Schrader valves are an easy answer to improving tubeless airflow and reducing clogging, but Muc-Off's no-core Big Bore valves (Lite, Hybrid or Ludicrous) look interesting.

muc-off.com

6 Van Rysel Cold Weather Cycling Arm Warmers

£17.99

Autumn days are too brisk for bare arms. (See cyclinguk.org/arm-and-knee-warmers-test.) As ever, Decathlon's Van Rysel clothing is good value – especially with your Cycling UK discount. These arm warmers come in sizes XS-XXL.

decathlon.co.uk

7 Elite Struka microadjust bottle cage

£22.99

Adjustable from 65-80mm in diameter, Elite's new Struka cage will carry flasks, bigger bottles and tubular-shaped luggage as well as bidons.

freewheel.co.uk

More online
Check out our in-depth reviews of the latest bikes and gear online at:
cyclinguk.org/cycling-advice